LOUIS WELLS (Clayton Evans) has a great deal of background in dramatics. He appeared in "The Pri and the Prejudice" and "You Can't Take It With Yo at Saint Mary's Academy, and as Will Tatum in "The Mouse That Roared".

DAPHNE BURKHALTER (Rena Leslie) is making her debut on the Wakefield stage this production. Before attending Wakefield, she worked in the dramatic department of Daniels Jr. High School in Raleigh, North Carolina.

LINDA PITMAN (Hester) was on stage crew for both "The Man Who Came to Dinner" and "Guys and Dolls", in addition to a part in the latter. She also appeared in "The Mouse That Roared" as Mrs. Bascom.

HERSCHEL BROWNE (Raymond) is appearing in his first major role in a Wakefield production. However, over the summer he played the title role in "Minick" and "The Enchanted". He has also had principal roles in three full-length plays and two one-act plays at Thomas Jefferson Jr. High.

JIM HOWARD (Uncle Stanley) has earned quite a reputation as an actor in Wakefield for his roles in "The Man Who Came to Dinner", "Guys and Dolls" and "The Mouse That Roared". He has made some top-flight motion pictures, among them "Flash Maynard". He is a member of "The Nobodys in Particular".

Making his debut on the Wakefield stage is JOE TOMLINSON (Leggett Frazer). In the past, he has had a supporting role in "Many Moons", the lead in "The Ransom of Red Chief", and the co-lead in "Pyrimus and Thisbe".

LOUIS MIKEDES (Tommy Hughes) has helped on the crews of "Solid Gold Cadillac" and "The Man Who Came to Dinner" and appeared in "The Mouse That Roared" and "Guys and Dolls". He has also appeared on "Inga's Angle", "Bozo the Clown", and "Cousin Cupcake". With experience like that, no doubt he's going places.

CATHIE DULONG (Sue Barrington) was engaged in school plays in Junior High and last year at Wakefield. Currently, she is with a traveling group of Vietnamese entertainers who perform for charity or to help the war victims of South Viet Nam. They have performed at Johns Hopkins University and the Department of Commerce. This month they are to perform in Boston for the teachers of Arlington County.

LYNDA JERNIGAN (Marion Wilcox) has had the lead in the show "The Divine Flora", and was a dancer in "The Mouse That Roared" in addition to being active in many church plays. She also has experience backstage, having been stage manager for "Rebel Without a Cause".

BILL KAFFENBERGER (Mr. Prescott) is well-known for his talents. He has appeared in all the Wakefield productions since "The Solid Gold Cadillac" and is seen in "Flash Maynard". He is with "The Nobodys in Particular" and has recently signed a contract with Unicorn Records for song writing. However, he is best remembered for his role in "The Pick Temple Show".

BILL NEWMAN (Mr. Kimber) is a seasoned actor in Wakefield, having appeared in every Wakefield production since "The Solid Gold Cadillac" in the fall of 1965. He has appeared in many documentary films, including "Our Generation" produced by WETA, and has made many commercials for local television.

RANDY NESSLER (Newton Fuller) has experience in almost every facet of entertainment. He has been in every Wakefield production since "The Solid Gold Cadillac" and has M.C.'d two "Here Come The Warriors" shows and acted in a third. He has entertained our troops stationed here in local USO shows and with the comedy group "The Nobodys in Particular" and has appeared at Shady Grove Music Fair. He has made several films, including "Flash Maynard", and appeared in many local film documentaries.

EMERALD ERICKSON (Annabelle) has appeared in "The Man Who Came to Dinner" and "The Mouse That Roared" and is President of Thespian Troupe 1214. She appeared in "Our Generation" and in the prize-winning film "The Glass Cage". Emerald has also taken an active part in "Here Come The Warriors" shows, Modern Dance Concerts, and One-act Play Festivals.

NANCY HEASLEY (Madge Fuller) has taken an active part in the productions at Wakefield for the past two years. She was on the stage and make-up crews for "The Mouse That Roared". She is also a member of the Modern Dance Group.

JOHN WOODS (Steve Eldridge) is making his stage debut in this production. He has earlier appeared in a film entitled "The Monster That Came From the Sea".

DEBORAH SHAKLEFORD (Katie) has appeared on stage in an earlier Wakefield production, "The Mouse That Roared". She has been very busy acting in several church plays around the area.

WILMA WILLIAMS (Mrs. Douglas) has had extensive dramatic background by appearing in many one-act plays and one-act play festivals. To her credit are "No Greater Love", "The Old Lady Shows Her Medals", "For All Eternity".
